Blizzard opened the Diablo 4 2.6.0 PTR from February 3 to February 10 to preview the major updates for Season 12, covering significant changes to core gameplay, the equipment system, and gameplay mechanics.

1. New Killstreak System: Players initiate killstreaks by rapidly defeating enemies in succession. At the end of a killstreak, players receive bonus experience and seasonal reputation based on their total kills and the killstreak stage achieved.

Killstreaks have multiple stages: Killstreak, Carnage, Devastation, Bloodbath, and Massacre.

2. New Bloodied Items: 2.6.0 introduces a new equipment quality, Bloodied Items. Any piece of equipment has a chance to drop in Bloodied quality, and can be existing Legendary or Heirloom tier.

3. Bloodied Sigils: These sigils increase monster strength and trigger higher-risk, higher-reward battles. Successful completion guarantees the drop of multiple Bloodied Items.

If you're still craving more after Diablo 4 2.6.0 PTR, congratulations, another limited-time event awaits you!

Lunar Awakening returns! From February 12, 10 a.m. to February 26 PST.

This event brings massive experience boosts, empowered Shrines, and exclusive Lunar-themed rewards to both Eternal and Seasonal realms. During the event, all Shrines across Sanctuary are transformed into Lunar Shrines, granting a 100% bonus experience boost for 2 minutes, enhanced combat effects, and Ancestral Favor Reputation when activated.

Players can visit Ying-Yue at the Lunar Night Market in Ked Bardu to redeem reputation for exclusive Lunar cosmetics, reward caches, and the Trag'Oul's Consort mount. This brings meaningful seasonal challenges for players.

Honestly, as Diablo 4 keeps evolving, gear requirements are higher, builds are more demanding, and time investment keeps increasing. With limited free time, I don't always want to spend dozens of hours farming Gold, Runes, or Boss materials.

That's why I occasionally choose to buy Diablo 4 Gold, Items, Runes, Gems, or even D4 boosting services to speed things up.

After testing multiple platforms, I finally settled on IGGM.com — a cheap, fast, and reliable Diablo 4 market place. If you're cautious about buying Diablo 4 in-game products (just like I was), this guide will help you decide whether IGGM is worth it.

IGGM.com advantages include:

1. Fast D4 Gold Delivery: Whether you need to upgrade gear, craft legendary items, or adjust affixes,

Gold is the most important economic foundation for the season.

My most important factors when buying D4 Gold/Items/Carry Runs/Boosting are as follows, and IGGM has met all my expectations in every aspect.

1. Safe

This is my biggest concern. Diablo 4 is quite sensitive to gold and trading activities. I once bought some cheap items from another site, and the next day the system alerted me to an abnormal transaction, which really scared me. My biggest impression of IGGM is that the transaction process is completely transparent, safe, and legitimate.

IGGM: Diablo 4 Gold shop only partners with reliable suppliers, so Diablo 4 gold they sell is legal and safe, and they use a Face-to-Face delivery method. The entire process only requires providing a Battle Tag/Battle Email and Character Name.

My main account is very valuable, so security is always my bottom line.

2. Fast

Anyone who plays D4 knows that if you're missing a piece of equipment, you're often stuck. This is especially true at the beginning of a season or when you're in a hurry to complete a build; Diablo 4 items are crucial.

IGGM generally ships within minutes. My most extravagant purchase was at 3:30 AM when I bought several Betrayer's Husks, Shard of Agony, and Exquisite Blood items. The transaction was completed very quickly, and customer service immediately confirmed with me, a very smooth experience.

3. Cheap

I love comparing prices before buying anything; as a budget-conscious gamer, I have to be very careful with my spending. IGGM's prices are generally lower than other sites for Diablo 4 Gold
